

Please plan to join us for
Emory University Center for Ethics Monthly Clinical Ethics Seminars

Resilience and Ethics:
Partners in Professional Development

Rev. Michael Fogas, M.Div., BCC
Staff Support Liaison, Chaplain, Children's Healthcare of Atlanta

Thursday, April 26th, 2018
4:00 to 5:00 PM
Center for Ethics, Seminar Room 162
1531 Dickey Drive, Emory University Campus

A core value for Staff Support in healthcare is the integration of self-regulation and self-reflection for the sake of developing a professional level of resilience. The ability to self-regulate creates mental space for the average clinician to observe and reflect more consciously on both external circumstances and their internal processing. Expanded awareness of one's somatic and cognitive experience is a key skill for professional development, impacting both resilience (reduction of moral distress) and ethical care at the bedside (culturally competent care based on medical reason and compassion). We will explore these ideas during this interactive session.

Want to join Virtually?

Visit <https://hcecg.org/event-2902022> for access information

Please RSVP to hec@emory.edu

*The Center's Clinical Ethics Seminars are held monthly on the 4th Thursday of every month (except November and December, which will be the 3rd Thursday).

Emory University Center for Ethics, 1531 Dickey Drive, Atlanta, GA 30322