Emory Center for Ethics, Institute for African Studies, Global Health Institute, Institute for Developing Nations, and the Public Health Ethics Club present

The Ethical Challenges of Ebola for Global Health: Expanding the Conversation

September 22, 2014 4:00pm
Center for Ethics Commons 102
1531 Dickey Drive Atlanta, GA 30322

Panelists

Robert Breiman
Director, Emory Global Health Institute

Kathy Kinlaw
Associate Director, Emory Center for Ethics

Colleen Kraft
Assistant Professor of Medicine, Emory Healthcare

Pamela Scully
Professor, Department of Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, and Institute of African Studies, Emory University

Agnes Kamara Umunna
Journalist, Radio Producer, and Community Activist

Moderator
Paul Root Wolpe
Director, Emory Center for Ethics

Among our many questions...

- How do we fairly allocate scarce resources?
- What quality of care is possible in limited resource regions?
- What ethical questions arise with experimental treatments?