Internship project/job description:
Emory’s Office of Sustainability Initiatives (OSI) relies heavily on the work of student interns for research, benchmarking, implementation, and outreach in all areas of sustainability. Based on student interests and OSI’s needs, an EASL intern will work directly with OSI staff on a variety of projects throughout the summer in the areas of energy, water, waste, transportation, food, green building and other sustainability initiatives.

Note: OSI does not have extra office space for students, so work is primarily completed remotely with regular meetings with staff and other interns to discuss projects. Fieldtrips to on and off-campus sustainability-related sites will be optional for interns.

Qualifications:
- Strong writing, verbal and analytical skills
- Interest in sustainability and understanding of principles of sustainability and environmental stewardship.
- Comfortable working independently with regular check-ins on activity and progress

If there are other requirements for this position (security check, drug screen, immunizations, etc.) please note them here:
