The 2013 – 2014 EASL Forum will focus on bullying prevention utilizing award winning educational resources from Cartoon Network’s Stop Bullying: Speak Up campaign

APPLY TODAY FOR THE 2013 – 2014 EASL FORUM!
Applications Due September 12 www.ethics.emory.com
Emory Center for Ethics partners with the Cartoon Network to help stomp out bullying

Emory University Center for Ethics will work with the Cartoon Network to develop an innovative and successful program that trains and places undergraduate students in middle schools to promote and model anti-bullying. The Emory Center for Ethics will utilize The Forum educational platform within its Ethics and Servant Leadership (EASL) program to organize and teach 12-15 students who will dedicate the academic year to studying the causes, nature, and social dynamics of bullying, and who will be placed in middle schools in the Atlanta, GA area in order to implement the curriculum. Model curricula will be developed with the goal of designing an innovative mentorship program for national distribution.

Goals: This pilot program’s goals are to develop a curriculum that incorporates the latest scholarship and practical understandings of bullying and its dynamics, and to train university students to address and mentor middle school age students on appropriate behaviors based on ethics and values.

Applications may be emailed to: chantel.lashay.smith@emory.edu or mailed to:
Emory University
Rita Anne Rollins Building
Center for Ethics, 1st floor
1531 Dickey Drive
Atlanta, GA 30322

For more information visit: www.ethics.emory.edu

Dr. Edward Queen, Director
Carlton D. Mackey, Assistant Director

Applications are due Thursday, September 12, 2013 by 5:00 p.m.
OVERVIEW OF THE FORUM

This year’s forum will kick off with an opening retreat at the Nantahala Outdoor Center on October 4th - 6th. Participation is required. After a weekend of ropes courses, river rafting, small group exercises, and leadership training, the EASL Forum will convene two hours weekly for the remainder of the academic year (fall and spring semesters). Each month the EASL forum will focus on a different social topic and will struggle to understand the ethical implications and challenges it presents.

This year however, undergirding the entire year’s Forum will be a focus on bullying prevention. In partnership with Cartoon Network, Forum participants will work with three local schools to design and implement anti bullying programs powered by the Speak Up Program of Cartoon Network.

Other forum topics include:

- Examining Race and Class
- Sexuality and Gender
- Law
- Urban Development
- Relationship to the Environment
- Intersection between ethics & the arts

Interested? Apply Now.

Do you want to be a more ethically engaged individual?

Do you want to become a more effective leader?

Do you want to be a part of a group committed to making a difference in the world?

Do you want to have a greater knowledge and deeper awareness of the issues facing our society?
APPLICANT

Applications are due Thursday, September 12, 2013 by 5:00 p.m.

Complete All Items (Please Type or Print Clearly)

Name ____________________________________________
  Last  First  (Preferred)

Emory Address _______________________________________

City __________________________ State ________ ZIP _________

Home Address _______________________________________
  (Number & Street)
City __________________________ State ________ ZIP _________

Email __________________________ Phone ___________________
  (Area/City Code)

Gender __________________________ GPA ___________________

Education

School (Emory College, School of Nursing, etc…) _______________________

Major __________________________ Year/Graduation Date ___________________
How did you hear about the Forum?

- Email:
- Sign/Poster
- Ethics Center Website
- Ethics Center Blog
- Professor announced in class
- Other

Is there someone else we should be sure to let know about the Forum?

Name ___________________________  Email ___________________________

Last                     First

What night of the week would you absolutely NOT be able to attend a weekly forum?

________________________________________________________________________

Have you previously participated in any EASL programs?

________________________________________________________________________

Demographics (Optional):

- Asian American
- Native American (American Indian or Alaskan Native)
- African American or Black
- Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander
- Caucasian or White
- Hispanic, Latino, or Spanish origin
- Other

References

List two references who can attest to your suitability for participating in the EASL Forum.

1) Name__________________________

Last                     First

Position/Relation ________________  Phone ___________________________

(Area/City Code)

2) Name__________________________

Last                     First

Position/Relation ________________  Phone ___________________________

(Area/City Code)
ESSAY QUESTIONS

Please type your name on any additional pages that you use.

1) What interests you most about a program in ethics and servant leadership, and why do you want to participate?
2) What types of experiences have you had that have informed or shaped your understanding of the world? What types of questions about society, community, science, the world, yourself, etc would you like to explore in a forum such as this?

*Applications may be emailed to: chantel.lashay.smith@emory.edu or mailed to: Emory University Center for Ethics 1531 Dickey Drive, Atlanta, GA 30322