Servant Leadership Summer Internships 2015

Looking to make a difference this summer?

Do you want to address new challenges and develop new skills?

Do you desire to expand your horizons?

And do you want to do all of these while getting paid?

If so, then you should apply to become part of Servant Leadership Summer.

The Ethics and Servant Leadership Program of the Center for Ethics is now accepting applications for the 2015 Servant Leader Summer Internship Program.

What:
- Up to thirty funded summer internships for the summer. Program runs from May 18-July 31.
- Interns work a minimum of 240 hours during the internship period.
- Interns attend class from 9:00-1:00 on Fridays, lunch included.
- Interns receive a $4000 stipend.

Who:
All full-time Emory University students (including students at Oxford College) are eligible for the program. Undergraduate, graduate, and professional students are encouraged to apply (including students graduating in May 2015).

Several internships are designed expressly for graduate and professional students.

Where: Atlanta-area nonprofit organizations, governmental agencies, and socially responsible businesses.

Program runs from May 18 through July 31.

What they are saying about the Servant Leader Summer Internship Program:

- It was definitely an awesome experience that I still regard with fondness.  LJ
- This is awesome! EASL is such a great program! The best program I have been apart of at Emory . . .  LH
- [It] played a huge part in my Emory experience and I hope that the program continues to grow and influence the lives of others.  MF
- [In the program] I learned about work ethics (including my own), how to handle tough situations, work-life balance, and more importantly, I learned to be leader--a servant-leader. It was a challenging placement, but rewarding and valuable to my personal growth.  RE
