

The Bakery Atlanta Presents a Network of Autonomy

Exploring the many facets of reproductive justice – a framework that encompasses the intersections of race, gender, health, and social justice.

ATLANTA, GA – February 25, 2025 — The Bakery Atlanta is proud to present A Network of Autonomy in partnership with Emory's Center for Ethics and Emory's Ethics and the Arts Program on view Thursday, March 20th through Monday, March 31st at The Supermarket. Join us for the opening reception featuring live performances on Thursday, March 20th from 6 pm to 9 pm.

Exhibition Overview

A Network of Autonomy features work from Atlanta artists that emphasize the social and environmental aspects that comprise reproductive rights. Selected artwork will invite viewers to adopt a broader definition of reproductive justice and what the world would look like if we could all do the same. The work engages with the complexities of reproductive justice in both personal and collective contexts, inviting deeper reflection on what is lost when reproductive justice is viewed solely through the lens of clinical environments.

The opening reception on March 20th will include two performances: "Tethered," choreographed by Cecilia Rodriguez with dancers Maggie Harrison, Leah Lipshutz, Sofia Tovar, Marley Crosby; and "Sometimes hidden from me in daily custom and in ritual I live by you unaware" choreographed and performed by Hiroko Kelly. Join us for a panel discussion and workshop in honor of the show's closing on March 31st. At 7:00pm, Emory's Center for Ethics will facilitate the conversation with artist Hiroko Kelly and special guests Kwajelyn Jackson, Executive Director at Feminist Women's Health Center (FWHC) in Atlanta, and Hilary Mabel, a Bioethicist/Healthcare Ethicist at the Center for Ethics and an Assistant Professor of Medicine at Emory's School of Medicine. At 8:15pm, following the panel, Hiroko Kelly will be leading a workshop on the Japanese art of origami. RSVP HERE FOR CLOSING EVENT

About The Bakery Atlanta

The Bakery Atlanta is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit housed inside of The Supermarket. It is a collective of artists, curators, and administrators dedicated to offering alternative models to local creatives and the general public. They host and produce experiences that connect and inspire people through collaboration, experimentation, and play. Through their DIY approach to supporting artists, The Bakery has established themselves in the community as stewards broadening awareness of, and building community around, progressive ideas in the arts while supporting emerging and established artists.
